1.2.2 A reference to a party includes its personal representatives, successors or permitted assigns.

1.2.3 A reference to a statute or statutory provision is a reference to such statute or provision as amended or re-enacted. A reference to a statute or statutory provision includes any subordinate legislation made under that statute or statutory provision, as amended or re-enacted.

1.2.4 Any phrase introduced by the terms including, include, in particular or any similar expression shall be construed as illustrative and shall not limit the sense of the words preceding those terms.

1.2.5 A reference to writing or written includes faxes and emails.

2 Basis of Contract

2.1 These Conditions apply to the Contract to the exclusion of any other terms that the Customer seeks to impose or incorporate, or which are implied by trade, custom, practice or course of dealing save where the Contract includes other matters such as servicing and maintenance in which event the Contract shall include Environmental Instruments' other relevant conditions as specified by Environmental Instruments or as applicable in addition to these Conditions.

2.2 The Order constitutes an offer by the Customer to purchase the Goods in accordance with these Conditions. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that the terms of the Order and any applicable Specification are complete and accurate.

2.3 The Order shall only be deemed to be accepted when Environmental Instruments issues a written acceptance of the Order, at which point the Contract shall come into existence.

2.4 The Contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. The Customer acknowledges that it has not relied on any statement, promise or representation made or given by or on behalf of Environmental Instruments which is not set out in the Contract. Please refer to clauses 2.1 and 2.7 concerning dealings with Environmental Instruments other than product sales.

2.5 This is not a sale by sample. Any samples, drawings, descriptive matter, or advertising produced by Environmental Instruments and any descriptions or illustrations contained in catalogues or brochures other than Technical Specification are produced for the sole purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Goods described in them. They shall not form part of the Contract or have any contractual force.

2.6 A quotation for the Goods given by Environmental Instruments shall not constitute an offer. A quotation shall only be valid for a period of one calendar month from its date of issue and Environmental Instruments may withdraw it at any time.

3 Goods

3.1 The Goods are described in the Technical Specification as modified by any applicable Specification.

3.2 Environmental Instruments reserves the right to amend the specification of the Goods including the Specification (if any) if required by any applicable statutory or regulatory requirements.

4 Delivery

- 4.1 Environmental Instruments shall issue a delivery note in relation to each delivery of the Goods which shows the date of the Order, the Environmental Instruments Contract number, any relevant reference number quoted by the Customer in the Order, the type and quantity of the Goods (including the code number of the Goods, where applicable), special storage instructions (if any) and, if the Order is being delivered by instalments, the outstanding balance of Goods remaining to be delivered.
- 4.2 Environmental Instruments shall deliver the Goods to the location set out in the Order or such other location as the parties may agree (Delivery Location) at any time after Environmental Instruments notifies the Customer that the Goods are ready.
- 4.3 Delivery of the Goods shall be completed on the Goods' arrival at the Delivery Location. If the Customer collects or arranges its own carrier for the Goods from Environmental Instruments' premises at Units 5-6, The Mansley Centre, Timothy's Bridge Road, Stratford-upon-Avon, CV37 9NQ, UK, delivery shall be completed when the Goods are handed to the Customer or its carrier (as applicable).
- 4.4 Environmental Instruments manufactures most of its products to order. Environmental Instruments will produce the Goods as soon as it is reasonably able to do so, but factors such as availability of components and existing workload when the Order is received or any unforeseen process failures can affect the timescale for delivery. Any dates quoted for delivery are therefore approximate only, and the time of delivery is not of the essence. Environmental Instruments shall not be liable for any delay in delivery of the Goods that is caused by a Force Majeure Event or the Customer's failure to provide Environmental Instruments with adequate delivery instructions or any other instructions that are relevant to the supply of the Goods or the Customer's delay in payment where payment is not received with the Order and manufacture and delivery is stated by Environmental Instruments to be subject to receipt of payment. For delays after the Goods have been despatched by Environmental Instruments please refer to clause 4.10.
- 4.5 If Environmental Instruments fails to deliver the Goods, its liability shall be limited to the costs and expenses incurred by the Customer in obtaining replacement goods of similar description and quality in the cheapest market available, less the price of the Goods. Environmental Instruments shall have no liability for any failure to deliver the Goods to the extent that such failure is caused by a Force Majeure Event or the Customer's failure to provide Environmental Instruments with adequate delivery instructions or any other instructions that are relevant to the supply of the Goods or the Customer's failure to pay where manufacture and delivery is stated by Environmental Instruments to be subject to receipt of payment.
- 4.6 If the Customer fails to accept delivery of the Goods within three Business Days of Environmental Instruments or its carrier attempting to deliver the Goods to the Delivery Location or of Environmental Instruments notifying the Customer that the Goods are ready then, except where such failure or delay is caused by a Force Majeure

Event or Environmental Instruments' failure to comply with its obligations under the Contract:

- 4.6.1 delivery of the Goods shall be deemed to have been completed at 9.00 am on the third Business Day after the day on which Environmental Instruments or its carrier attempted to deliver the Goods to the Delivery Location or Environmental Instruments notified the Customer that the Goods were ready; and
- 4.6.2 Environmental Instruments shall store the Goods until delivery takes place, and charge the Customer for all related costs and expenses (including insurance).
- 4.7 If 10 Business Days after the day on which Environmental Instruments notified the Customer that the Goods were ready for delivery the Customer has not accepted delivery of them, Environmental Instruments may resell or otherwise dispose of part or all of the Goods.
- 4.8 Environmental Instruments may deliver the Goods by instalments, which shall be invoiced and paid for separately. Each instalment shall constitute a separate Contract. Any delay in delivery or defect in an instalment shall not entitle the Customer to cancel any other instalment.
- 4.9 Where Goods are to be delivered to a Delivery Location outside the UK the Customer shall supply such information as shall be required to enable Environmental Instruments to complete any relevant documentation and satisfy any applicable export and import regulations provided that Environmental Instruments shall not be expected or obliged to do anything which is in contravention of such documentation or regulations.
- 4.10 Environmental Instruments will notify the Customer of the expected delivery date for the Goods (expected delivery date). The Customer shall notify Environmental Instruments in writing no later than two Business Days from the expected delivery if it has not received the Goods. Failure to do so may prevent Environmental Instruments from claiming from the carrier or under any insurance in respect of such delay.
- 4.11 On delivery the Customer shall inspect the Goods as soon as reasonably practicable and shall notify Environmental Instruments in writing of any damage which has or may have been caused in transit no later than two Business Days from receipt. Failure to do so may prevent Environmental Instruments from claiming from the carrier or under any insurance in respect of such damage.

5 Quality

- 5.1 Environmental Instruments warrants that on delivery, and (save as set out in clause 5.4) for a period of 12 months from the date of delivery (unless another period of

- 5.1.1 conform in all material respects with their description in the relevant Technical Specification as modified by any applicable Specification;
 - 5.1.2 be free from material defects in design, material and workmanship; and
 - 5.1.3 be fit for any purpose held out by Environmental Instruments in the relevant Technical Specification as modified by any applicable Specification.
- 5.2 Subject to clause 5.3, if:

- 5.3.1 the Customer makes any further use of such Goods after giving notice in accordance with clause 5.2;
 - 5.3.2 the defect arises because the Customer failed to follow the operating manual or other oral or written instructions from Environmental Instruments as to the storage, commissioning, installation, use and maintenance of the Goods or (if there are none) good trade practice regarding the same;
 - 5.3.3 repairs or alterations carried out other than by Environmental Instruments or its authorised agents;

- 5.3.4 the Customer opens, alters, or repairs or otherwise tampers with such Goods without the written consent of Environmental Instruments;
 - 5.3.5 the defect arises as a result of fair wear and tear, wilful damage, negligence, accidental damage or abnormal storage or working conditions;
 - 5.3.6 the defect arises as a result of Environmental Instruments following any drawing, design or Specification supplied by the Customer; or
 - 5.3.7 the Goods differ from their description in the Technical Specification as modified by any applicable Specification as a result of changes made to ensure they comply with applicable statutory or regulatory requirements;
 - 5.3.8 the Goods are damaged in transit to which clause 4.11 applies.

- As regards items referred to in clause 5.4.1 Environmental Instruments will pass on to the Customer the benefit of such warranties as are available from the suppliers of such items to Environmental Instruments.

 - 5.6 Except as provided in this clause 5, Environmental Instruments shall have no liability to the Customer in respect of the Goods' failure to comply with the warranty set out in clause 5.1.
 - 5.7 The terms implied by sections 13 to 15 of the Sale of Goods Act 1979 are, to the fullest extent permitted by law, excluded from the Contract.

 - 5.9 The warranty period shall not be extended as a result of any repair or replacement pursuant to this clause 5.
 - 5.10 Environmental Instruments may from time to time offer additional warranty schemes applicable to certain of its products subject to such terms and conditions as Environmental Instruments may specify. Details available from Environmental Instruments on request.

- 5.11 The Customer shall not remove or obscure Environmental Instruments' company or product name or branding on the Goods without Environmental Instruments' prior written consent. Any such action would also constitute alteration or tampering within clause 5.3.4.
- 5.12 Once the Contract has been made Environmental Instruments shall not be obliged to accept any cancellation or the return of any Goods which are not in breach of the Contract. Environmental Instruments may from time to time at its discretion offer a returns policy. The policy current as at the date of these Conditions is as set out in Supplement B clauses 16 to 19. The policy is subject to change or withdrawal at any time. Details available from Environmental Instruments on request.

- 6.2 Save as set out in clause 6.3 title to the Goods shall pass to the Customer on completion of delivery.
- 6.3 Title to the Goods shall not pass to the Customer until Environmental Instruments has received payment in full (in cash or cleared funds) for:
- 6.3.1 the Goods; and
 - 6.3.2 any other goods or services that Environmental Instruments has supplied to the Customer in respect of which payment has become due.
- 6.4 Until title to the Goods has passed to the Customer, the Customer shall:

6.5 If before title to the Goods passes to the Customer the Customer becomes subject to any of the events listed in clause 9.2, or Environmental Instruments reasonably believes that any such event is about to happen and notifies the Customer accordingly, then, provided that the Goods have not been irrevocably incorporated into another product, or resold, and without limiting any other right or remedy Environmental Instruments may have, Environmental Instruments may at any time require the Customer to deliver up the Goods and, if the Customer fails to do so promptly, enter any premises of the Customer or of any third party where the Goods are stored in order to recover them.

7 Price

7.1 The price of the Goods shall be the price set out in the Order, subject to acceptance by Environmental Instruments, or, if no price was quoted prior to submission of the Order by the Customer, the price set out in Environmental Instruments' standard published price list in force as at the date of delivery.

7.2 Where the value of Goods in the Order is below the minimum set by Environmental Instruments from time to time Environmental Instruments reserves the right to add an administration charge in respect of its costs in dealing with such Order.

7.3 In the event of any request by the Customer to make any change in the delivery date(s), quantities or types of Goods ordered, or otherwise change the Contract Environmental Instruments will as soon as reasonably practicable notify the Customer of any impact on the Contract including the delivery, price and payment terms. The Customer shall then promptly notify Environmental Instruments whether it wishes to proceed with such changes.

7.4 Environmental Instruments may, by giving notice to the Customer at any time up to ten Business Days before delivery, increase the price of the Goods to reflect any increase in the cost of the Goods that is due to:

7.4.1 any factor beyond Environmental Instruments' control (including foreign exchange fluctuations, increases in taxes and duties, and increases in labour, materials and other manufacturing costs); or

7.4.2 any delay by the Customer in making payment where manufacture and delivery is stated by Environmental Instruments to be subject to receipt of payment.

8.8 If the Customer fails to make any payment due to Environmental Instruments under the Contract by the due date for payment (due date), then the Customer shall pay interest on the overdue amount at the rate of 4% per annum above HSBC Bank plc's base rate from time to time.
